OUR ENVIRONMENT

Psalm 24:1 "The earth is the LORD's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein."

Jesus and His disciples were very close to the land and farming. Their techniques and references were related to everyday life and nature. Then, as now, success in farming depended on how well God's laws were obeyed.

Conserving our land, using it and protecting it from erosion, must be in harmony with nature. The methods and principles needed are available.

The only Christian action is to protect and preserve our land for future generations to use. We must use it, but we can conserve and improve it while it supports us. In land we have something we can destroy but cannot create. We need to hallow the land, remembering it is God's gift to all His children for all time. RH
