A TIME TO REST

Jesus said to them, “Come away by yourselves to a lonely place, and rest a while.” For many were coming and going, and they had no leisure even to eat.

Time is very important! The important must be seen from many facets. There must be time for work and for rest; there must be time for prayer and worship.

All these activities other than work are done during the time of leisure. We need to take time for devotions and for study, for this is growing time spiritually and educationally.

No one can go long without the need of the quiet time for contemplation and retrospection. Leisure time can also be time for play.

Families are no longer as close and as involved together as they once were. Many of them have lost the ability to “play” together. The factors of individual interests are too diversified.

However, this does not diminish the importance of playtime for a family. It is during leisure time that we most often draw aside and give god our deepest attention.

As we do, we expand our spiritual and mental horizons; and our life takes on more meaning and balance.

If we have no time for rest, we will soon have no time for work.
