Do We Trust God?

“In the Lord put I my trust”
(Psalms 11:1)

“IN GOD WE TRUST” is a national motto. But it is a human weakness to trust more in the coins so inscribed than in God himself.

Many people who believe that God exists—who respect him as the give of life—have not learned to trust him.

Years ago a man spent the night in a hotel. As he went to bed, he noticed a rope coiled up near the window. He looked the rope over. It was well anchored, and it seemed quite strong. He thought well of that rope.

That night the hotel caught fire. The guest grabbed the escape rope, let it out of the window, and climbed down to safety. His attitude toward that rope underwent a change. He had to trust it utterly. His high opinion of that rope became a complete confidence.

You believe that you have a good God, of course! Do you trust him completely? Do you cast “all your care upon him”? Do you have complete confidence in his promise: “I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee”?

“Trust him, he is ever faithful;
Trust him, for his will is best;
Trust him, for the heart of Jesus
Is the only place of rest.”
