ONE CHILD'S INTERPRETATION (OUT OF THE MOUTH OF BABES)

A teacher asked a group of people if anyone could quote the entire 23rd Psalm from memory. A golden-haired, four year old was among those who raised their hand. A bit skeptical, the teacher asked if she could really quote the entire Psalm. The little girl came to the front of the room, faced the class, made a perky little bow, and said, "The Lord is my shepherd, that's all I want." she bowed again and went and sat down.

That may well be the greatest interpretation ever heard.

BE PATIENT

"Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him" (Psalm 37:7)

IMPATIENCE is often called the vice of the virtuous. A child once prayed, "Lord, make all the bad people good, and the good people nice."

Today I will not upset others by being cross. I will not selfishly release my feelings of frustration without first thinking about others.

"The secret of patience is doing something constructive in the meantime." Patience is waiting on God and trusting him to work things out in his time. It is not worrying while waiting for God's answer.

It is shown by a child who does not grab back a toy. It is shown by a mother who does not demand perfect quiet from the children just because she is tired.

It is shown by a father who realizes he will feel better after dinner, and determines to show tolerance until dinner.

"ANGER" is just one letter short of "danger."

With God's help I can deal with my emotions. Perhaps the efforts will be feeble at first, but I shall begin. It is not hypocritical to act composed when you feel upset.

"The little plans I tried to carry through have failed, I will not sorrow. I'll pause a little while, and try, again, tomorrow."
