WHAT WILL YOUR CHECKBOOK SAY ABOUT YOU?

Some time ago, I read about a man who has written many biographies. He noted it is easy to find out what kind of man he really was, by looking at the checkbook stubs. Where he spent his money; what was important to him. Now, take your checkbook out for last year, what does it say about you?

This man cares more for entertainment, football, hunting, fishing, gold, tennis, and movies that he does the Lord.

This man cares more for his personal appearance, clothes, grooming, etc., than he does the church.

This man cares more about civic interests: clubs, community projects, Red Cross, than he does about the lost.

This man cares more about vacations & traveling (just look at those gas bills), than he does about the expansion of the kingdom of God.

This man cares more about temporal security: bonds, stocks, and other investments than he does about treasures in heaven.

Would you be ashamed if suddenly your checkbook began to blab the truth about you to all your friends and neighbors.
